

Litchfield Land Trust

Conserving and Protecting Land. Forever.

Our work is possible because of you.

By now you are probably aware that Connecticut Community Foundation's Give Local Fundraising campaign kicks off tomorrow morning at 7am. This 36-hour online fundraiser offers local non-profits the opportunity to fundraise, receiving matching grants, and additional prizes.

We are beyond fortunate to be participating alongside so many other local organizations that enrich our communities and our lives.

As you consider your gift-giving over these next 36 hours, we hope you will reflect on the value of the Litchfield Land Trust's mission and the positive, lifelong impact we make on our environment and community.

We are small, but mighty.

We are a small, dedicated team of volunteers with one part-time staff person, but even though we are small in number, we have accomplished so much. To date we have preserved 3,967 acres of land here in Litchfield, making us the 8th largest land trust in the state.

Our Work sustains our Way of Life.

From providing publicly accessible trails for the community to enjoy, to conserving and preserving land, habitats, open spaces, and waterways, our work contributes to making Litchfield such an incredible place to visit and live, now and for generations to come.

Your Support Allows us to Grow.

We have big things in the works! Your support during this campaign will fund capital improvements on our trails, including bridges on the newly acquired Katzin property, which will offer even more recreational access to our town's beautiful lands for all to enjoy.

Our Give Local Profile is linked in the button below. Please bookmark it and come back between 7 a.m. April 26 and 7 p.m. April 27 to pledge your support.

Thank you for supporting our mission!

We acknowledge that we are on the land of Indigenous ancestral tribes. Litchfield is located on the Pootatuck tribal homelands and is situated on the homelands of the Weantinock peoples whose descendants are the modern day Schaghticoke people. A small portion of the Tunxis homelands can also be found in Litchfield. For this land and these peoples, we give thanks.
